

LARGEST CLASS IS TO BE GRADUATED

Rushville High School Will Have Nearly Sixty Seniors, Early Indications Show

DATE SET FOR MAY 27

All Other Schools in County Have Selected Dates With Center And Arlington Next Week

The largest graduating class of seniors to leave the Rushville high school will be graduated May 27, according to an announcement today, and indications now point to a class of nearly 60 pupils. The speaker for the occasion has not been decided upon.

Commencement dates for all of the county high schools have been selected, and several of the schools are now preparing to close. Others will run longer than usual this year on account of making up time lost in the winter, due to epidemics of diseases and absences.

The first commencement will be held next week at Center, when the Rev. L. E. Brown of this city will deliver the address, Wednesday night.

This will be followed by the Arlington school graduation next Friday night at eight o'clock, when the largest class in the history of that school, numbering 14 pupils, will be graduated. The address will be delivered at the Christian church by A. L. Kohmeier, head of the History department of Indiana university.

The Arlington school festivities began this week with the presentation of the class play, "Assisted by Saddle" given Wednesday and Thursday nights. Tonight the Junior-Senior reception will be held at the school, and a big three course banquet is planned, and a two part musical program and entertainment will follow. The Baccalaureate sermon for the class will be preached Sunday night at the Methodist church, with the sermon given by the Rev. E. L. Miller.

Fred VanNuys, an attorney of Indianapolis and formerly the Federal District attorney of Indiana, will come back to his home in Washington township and deliver the commencement address to the Raleigh high school on Saturday night, April 26.

Following the Raleigh commencement will come Milroy on Monday night, April 28. There will be 19 in the class there, and the address will be delivered by the Rev. J. S. E. McMichael of Connersville, a former minister at Milroy. On the night here.

DENIES ALLEGATIONS BUT IS FINED $500

Earl Gilson, who Was Arrested Here Last Week, Also Draws 60-Day Sentence at Greensburg

PETIT LARCENY THE CHARGE

Earl Gilson, who was arrested here last week and turned over to the Greensburg authorities, was arraigned and tried in police court in that city Friday before the mayor, and found guilty of petit larceny, receiving a fine of $500 and a 60 day sentence.

Mayor Jenkins of that city does not believe in handing out light sentences, and all of the evidence submitted was circumstantial. The defendant protested such a stiff sentence, but the mayor said that it was given more on general principles than any thing else.

Alexander Bentley of near Forest Hill was the prosecuting witness in the case. In the trial Mr. Bentley stated that on February 4 Gilson came to his residence to visit Nettie Maynard, who was working at the Bentley home. Gilson and Mrs. Maynard, who is his step-mother, were involved in litigation at Muncie several months ago.

Mr. Bentley testified that Gilson stayed at his home about six days leaving on a Saturday morning. A few hours after his departure it was discovered that a gold watch, and old keepsake of Mr. Bentley's, had disappeared.

The defendant denied every allegation.

SUSPECT ARSON IN FATAL BLAZE

Explosion And Collapse of Chicago Building During Fire Causes Death of Nine Persons

20 INJURED, SOME FATALLY

Three Who Had Shops in Building Under Arrest—One Firm Took Out Insurance Several Days Ago

Chicago, Ill., April 19—Arson was suspected by police today in the fire which last night gutted a four story building here, killing eight firemen, one civilian and injured twenty others, some perhaps fatally.

Search of the ruins was continued by policemen and firemen today. Still many unaccounted for may have been trapped when a terrific explosion caused the walls to billow out and then collapse.

The explosion occurred on the second floor, while firemen were swarming all over the building.

The structure was known as the Curran building, located on Blue Island Avenue on the South side. Fire, apparently insignificant, broke out last evening. Within a few moments the fire was raging throughout the entire structure. Scores of persons and fire apparatus were brought to the scene.

Several firemen were on the upper floor, others on the ground floor and still others were perched on ladders leaning against the walls and on a water tower running its head a few feet from the building, when without warning a terrific explosion shook the building. The walls bulged out and then caved to the ground. The roof and upper floor crashed through to the basement carrying the firemen and other persons with it through the leaping flames. Shrieks of agony pierced the blazing structure and the

Aspires To Be Queen Of Upper Regions

Miss Florence Staffon of Fresno, Calif., Former Rushville Girl, Too Nervous to Pilot Auto, Decides She Will Like Flying Where There's No Traffic to Bother Her

Miss Florence Staffon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Staffon, formerly of Rushville, has taken up aviation out in Fresno, California, where she and her mother are living with a wealthy cousin, M. R. Madary, according to a long account in a Fresno newspaper that has been received here.

Mr. and Mrs. Staffon and family left here four years ago and have since been residing in California.

Miss Staffon is employed by the Sun-Maid Raisin Growers and spends one-half hour each day, according to the newspaper account, endeavoring to master the airplane. A picture of Miss Staffon in flying clothes, standing beside a plane, appears with the newspaper article.

"I went up several weeks ago just for a lark while a party of us were watching at the aviation field," Miss Staffon is quoted as saying. "I liked it. It is wonderful sport. Then again I couldn't be a regular piker. I can't drive an automobile and can't seem to learn. I get nervous because there is so much traffic to watch."

The newspaper says Miss Staffon is the first aviatrix in central California and is one of but three or four in all California who have ever flown a plane.

FIREMEN MAKE QUICK WORK OF A BAD FIRE

Play Three Streams of Water on Blaze at J. S. Davis Home—Several Hundred Dollars Damage

ANOTHER HOUSE ON FIRE

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Davis, 705 North Morgan street, was damaged to the extent of several hundred dollars by fire and water shortly after eleven o'clock this morning when the roof caught fire, apparently from a defective flue.

Effective work by the fire department, which fought the blaze with three streams of water, saved the house, and also prevented the fire from spreading.

Sparks set fire to the roof of the house owned by Mrs. Sarah E. Stewart, 702 North Morgan street, immediately across the street, but blaze was soon extinguished. The other half of the Stewart house is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Norris and family.

The alarm was telephoned to the fire department and the quick response by the department nipped in the bud what might have been a very disastrous fire. Two lines of hose were laid from the motor pumper and one from the fire plug.

IMMIGRATION BILL GOES TO CONFERENCE

Will be Rushed Through and Sent to White House, There to Meet Problematical Fate

NO INKLING FROM COOLIDGE

Washington, April 19—Overwhelmingly passed by the senate late last night, the immigration bill and the controversial Japanese exclusion feature will be rushed through conference with the house in the next few days and sent to the White House, there to meet a problematical fate.

President Coolidge has given no inkling of how he will treat it. Powerful pressure has been put on him by administration leaders in the senate and those in charge of his campaign to approve it and equally powerful arguments have been advanced to him to veto it.

Those who would have him approve it point to the enormous majority by which the bill passed the house and senate. It passed in the

Thirty-six Summoned to Testify in Suit of Hazle M. Merritt Against Clyde Merritt

SPECIAL JUDGE ON BENCH

Judge Sparks Holds Court in Another Room, Hearing Another Divorce Matter

A divorce case today occupied the circuit court, with Judge John Craig of Greensburg being the special judge in the matter in which Hazle M. Merritt is seeking a decree from Clyde Merritt.

There were 36 witnesses summoned for the case, which was being contested by several counter actions. The plaintiff is a teacher at the Webb school, and lives in this city, and before her marriage was Hazle Risk.

The case was filed some time ago, but had never come up for trial. A restraining order had been heard, and several other actions taken in the case, including the appointment of the Greensburg judge to try the cause. It was expected that the evidence would not be completed until late today.

Judge Sparks this morning held court before the arrival of the Greensburg judge, and only a few issues in other causes were filed and

Nurserymen Say it is a Mistake to Dig up Hedges That Seem to be Dead

California Privet Species Apparently is Only Type to Have Been Winter Killed. Cut Off Tops Few Inches From the Ground And Hedge Will Soon Be As Luxurious As Ever.

People who had concluded that they should dig up their hedges because they appeared to be winter-killed, should not do anything of the sort, but should cut off the tops a few inches from the ground, and the hedge will grow and eventually will be as luxurious as ever, according to local nurserymen. The same advice is given by state officials who have been examining hedges in many parts of the state to see if they are dead.

The California Privet hedge is the worst effected, according to experts

RUSHVILLE MAN IS AT THE HELM

J. T. Arbuckle Directing Plans For Kiwanis "District Inter-Club Day" April 30

FOUR REGIONAL MEETINGS

One For This Sub-Area Will Be At Richmond Where 800 Are Expected To Be Present

With J. T. Arbuckle of this city, district governor, at the helm, Kiwanis clubs of Indiana are making elaborate preparations for "District Inter-Club Day," which will be observed at four regional meetings on Wednesday, April 30.

The special day is being fostered by Kiwanis clubs throughout the United States and Canada to promulgate national patriotism and to develop more friendly and closer relations between all cities in which Kiwanis clubs are situated.

Richmond will be the host club for the sub-area in which Rushville is located and Ray H. Weisbrod of Richmond, chairman of the inter-club relations committee, together with the lieutenant governor for this sub-area, John Goodwin of Brookville, is making arrangements for a banquet and meeting in observance of the day that is expected to exceed anything Kiwanis ever attempted in Indiana.

Rushville is working for the attendance of every member and other clubs have a similar goal. The clubs in this region which will be represented at Richmond are located at Anderson, Bluffton, Brookville, Connersville, Elwood, Greensfield, Hartford City, Knightstown, Lawrenceburg, Muncie, Newcastle, Portland, Union City and Winchester.

It is estimated that there will be about 800 visitors from these cities for the meeting. The main address will be delivered by Lieut. Gov. Goodwin.

Similar arrangements are being made in each sub-area. The other regional meetings will be held in Kokomo, Bloomington and Elkhart, with Lieut. Gov. Tom Coleman, formerly of this city, directing the plans for the Kokomo meeting, Lieut. Gov. L. J. Kress in charge at Bloomington and Lieut. Gov. Fegan in

CHOICE BY VOTE IS IMPROBABLE

Gubernatorial Primary Fight Has Resolved Itself Into Two Three-Cornered Contests

THREE LEADERS ON EACH SIDE

Unlike Primary Campaign Of Four Years Ago, Presidential Race Has Attracted Little Attention

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 19 — With the primary election less than three weeks off, the possibility of nominating candidates for governor on either the Republican or Democratic ticket by the popular vote in the primary appears more and more improbable.

Candidates for the gubernatorial nomination have directed their main efforts toward lining up delegates to the convention.

At the moment, according to observers who have been in touch with the strength developed by the candidates in various sections of the state, the fight has resolved itself into two three-cornered contests.

According to dopesters, the big fight is between Ed Jackson, Lew Shank and Ed Toner on the Republican ticket and Dr. Carleton McCulloch, Dale Crittenger and Joseph Cravens among the Democratic contestants.

McCulloch has a big advantage in the backing of Tom Taggart. Taggart's announcement that he was backing McCulloch's candidacy threw consternation into the ranks of the other candidates on the occasion of the banquet of the Democratic Editorial Association.

In past years Taggart's endorsement of a candidate has been almost sufficient to assure a candidate of the nomination.

This year the race evolves itself into a question convention if the nomination goes into convention. The McCulloch forces seem to be centering their attack on Cravens. Accusations have been made that Cravens is linked with public utility interests.

Cravens has stoutly denied the rumors. In a recent speech he said he "would shed no tears" if the legislature abolished the public service commission.

Cravens had developed his greatest strength in the southern part of the state. He has also evidenced some strength in Marion county.

Crittenger's main strength, according to reports, lies in the eighth and twelfth congressional districts, with the opponents declaring he has the support of the wet wing of the party, due largely to the declaration of Stephen B. Fleming, former brewer, that he is for Crittenger.

With no such dominating leadership as that of Taggart behind any of the Republican candidates, the race has assumed more of the aspect

FIRE APPARATUS USED IN BLOCKADE

State Troopers Combine Forces With Quarantine Guard to Keep Out Afflicted People

MACHINE GUN TO BE USED

(By United Press)

Yuma, Ariz., April 19—Fire fighting apparatus and state troopers combined forces with quarantine guards today to enforce the blockade against 800 Arizona-bound tourists, just about to cross the border.

The blockade is an effort to check the spread of the dread hoof and mouth disease, now prevalent in some parts of California.

Late Friday, the tourists, many of them afflicted with the disease, made an attempt to rush the interstate bridge over the Colorado river. They were successful until firemen and Yuma police officials repelled the attempt. Guns were taken from the quarantine guards and great streams of water were brought into play to repel the tourists.

In the caravan waiting to cross into Arizona are one hundred motor cars, many of them containing women and children.

Guardsmen ordered here by Governor Hunt will place a machine gun in the bridge to prevent the tourists from crossing.

WRECK SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS VENTURE

After Piling Fabulous Profit of 5,000 Percent Two Youths Await Juvenile Court Action

FORMED A PARTNERSHIP

Indianapolis, Ind., April 19—Heartless police here have wrecked one of the most daringly successful business operations ever instituted in Indianapolis.

After piling up the fabulous profit of 5,000 percent in less than a week the promoters, Edward Meyers, 10, and Kenneth Mahurin, 11, were guests at the detention home awaiting action of juvenile court.

Meyers said he ran away from home last Monday and formed a partnership with Mahurin the day following. Total capital of the financiers consisted of one cent.

After holding numerous conferences, and after carefully looking over the investment field, they placed their entire capital in an Indianapolis paper and sold it for two cents.

Encouraged by the tremendous success of their first fling in the financial world, they reinvested in newspapers and at last built up a business which netted them fifty cents a day profit.

They took up sleeping quarters in a moving van they found equipped with blankets and tarpaulins.

In the midst of their successful business venture they were picked up by police.

Graduating Class of Manila High School Prepares For Annual Class Play April 25 and 26

BACCALAUREATE APRIL 27

Commencement Will Be Held May 1 at Which Time D. K. Stewart of Columbus Will Speak

The graduating class of the Manila High school is making preparations for the annual class play which is to be presented in the high school auditorium on April 25 and 26. Following the custom established by former classes, a high grade comedy has been selected for presentation. This comedy, "The Charm School," adapted from the novel by Alice Duer Miller, offers splendid opportunity for the members of the class to display their talent as actors.

Other activities in connection with the close of the school year will follow the class play in rapid order.

On Sunday night, April 27 the Baccalaureate exercises will be held in the high school auditorium. The Rev. O. E. Haley of the Manila M. E. church will deliver the address, while the high school chorus will furnish the music for this occasion. On Tuesday night, April 29, the Junior Class will hold a reception for the graduating class. The end of the exercises will come with the commencement on Thursday night, May 1.

On this occasion D. K. Stewart of Columbus, Indiana, will deliver the address. Mr. Stewart is a talented orator who has given a number of commencement addresses in this section of the country and is known as a speaker who holds the attention of his audiences with little difficulty. The music for the commencement will be furnished by Wagoner's orchestra of Rushville.

Contrary to the usual custom, no admission will be charged at the commencement this year and it is hoped that a great many people will avail themselves of this change and hear Mr. Stewart.

Foreign Boxers Get Dough

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, April 19—Managers of American boxers are complaining against the importation of so many foreign boxers and the preference that is being given to them for the big money bouts.

From their point of view, it is true that American boxers are entitled at least to an even break with imported foreigners who are given the "big shots", without being forced to go through the hard school of development that is exacted of American fighters.

Eddie Kane, manager of Tom Gibbons, points out that since Jack Dempsey has been heavyweight champion, promoters have given American boxers only $40,000 for services against the champion and that a half-million dollars has been paid to two foreign fighters, both of whom had no just right to a bout for the title.

It is not Dempsey's fault, of course, unless there is truth in the oft repeated assertion that the champion has deliberately sidestepped Harry Wills. Dempsey claims that he will fight any opponent the promoters offer him and, if he is speaking truthfully, the promoters must be blamed for any discrimination that is being shown against Americans.

Tex Rickard, who hustled Luis Firpo into a fortune of a half-million dollars, who matched Carpenter with Dempsey and who has brought Erminio Spalla and Quintin Romero into the select group of dough fighters, claims that it is the fault of the public.

Rickard points out that there has to be a circus touch to any fight card that requires a million-dollar gate to get over. Foreign fighters furnish the circus color.

Against any number of American contenders, no promoter could draw enough to pay Dempsey his purse for defending the title. Rickard contends. He claims that Gibbons would not draw as much as Firpo would in a return bout with the champion, although Firpo didn't go two rounds with Dempsey and Gibbons lasted 15 under conditions that were decidedly advantageous to Dempsey.

Firpo, however, knocked Dempsey down twice and out of the ring once and Dempsey was never in serious danger when he was fighting Gibbons.

The promoters' side of it is presented in Rickard's argument that a return bout between Dempsey and Firpo would be a sellout, with no more advertising than an announcement when and where they were to meet, and that a long and loud ballyhoo would be necessary to get over a fight between Dempsey and some other opponent.

The proposed Dempsey-Wills bout is generally regarded as a "natural" one that could be put over profitably with very little exploitation and steaming up, but even in that case Wills would have to be built up a little to overcome the feeling that he is not as good as he used to be, or that he is any good at all.

If Dempsey, as Rickard points out, would fight for any reasonable sum, he could promote a number of heavyweight championship bouts and give all the American contenders a chance, but he finds that the contenders do not want to meet Dempsey unless they get a purse that is all out of proportion.

Dempsey has to be shown the possibilities of at least $500,000 before he will consider any kind of an offer and it is possible that he will be wanting a million dollars before he loses or gives up the title.

charge at Elkhart. One of the main features of the program at the regional meeting will be the "Zero Hour," at 9 p. m., when the entire assembly will stand and in unison repeat the "American Creed" and the "Pledge to the Flag," and sing a song of fellowship.

The "American Creed", which will be repeated at 9 o'clock was written by William Tyler Page and accepted by the United States House of Representatives on behalf of the American people, April 3, 1918, is as follows:

"I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people, whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union; and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

"I, therefore, believe it is my duty to my country to love it, support its constitution, to obey its laws, to respect its flag and to defend it against all enemies."

The American "Pledge to the Flag" is as follows:

An "Inter-Club Relations Creed", of Kiwanis principals has also been adopted for this occasion. The Creed is as follows:

"We believe that today all men are members of the great Brotherhood of Men, that the things which divide them may be minimized and annulled, and the things that unite them strengthened and confirmed by abundant fellowship relations—man with man and group with group.

"We believe that tolerance, generosity and understanding flourish and live and that fanaticism, hatred and persecution wither and die when Kiwanis men, representing the various races, creeds and thought, inter-mingle-Kiwanian with Kiwanian and Club with Club.

Scenes of unsurpassed heroism followed. Police and firemen rushed into the roaring furnace. Most of the people who were rescued from the fire owe their lives to the prompt and courageous work of the rescuers.

Police were told that owners of the Curran building had aroused the enmity of many persons by planning to rent the upper floor of the structure to negroes. Police were also told several persons acting suspiciously had been seen near the building just before the fire.

Police today took into custody Samuel Moore, Leo Unell and Samuel Palinski in connection with their investigation of arson.

Moore and Unell, proprietors of the Moore-Unell Novelty Company, also part of the structure, took out $32,000 fire insurance several days ago, according to police.

Adolph Friedman, proprietor of another shop in the building, told police that a hour and a half before the fire broke out, Moore asked him if all the tenants were out of the building.

Jackson has emphatically denied that he had any connection with the sale of Dollings stock, and declared that a bill would have been passed by the last legislature to prevent just such a crash if it had not been for sinister lobbying influences.

Mayor Shank remains one of the enigmas of the campaign. He has had good crowds at all his political meetings but the dopesters have been wary of making predictions as to whether this is indicative of his real strength at the polls.

On every hand there are reports that Ed Toner is rapidly gaining strength. Toner has considerable newspaper support that will be an important factor in the closing days of the campaign.

SHINGLE FOLLOWS THE BOB

By HEDDA HOYT
(Written for United Press)
New York, April 19—The Parisians decided early in the Winter that hair should be long and sleek and drawn tightly behind the ears if one was to be "chie".

"Eyes", wrote a Parisian connoisseur of feminine beauty, "are not the Parisian's only claim to beauty. The shell-pink ear is quite as fascinating as the eye."

American girls are often rather slow about accepting the Parisians' verdict on beauty. They will accept their silhouette, their hats and their shoes without a moment's hesitation, but when it comes to accepting their ears or their hair—does! Gracious! That is something to ponder over!

The American girls were quite willing to give their Parisian sisters an "eye" for an "eye", but when it came to giving them an "ear" for an "ear"—well, that was a different matter.

And as for long, sleek hair! Never!

"The bob is dead! Vive la long hair!" shouted the Parisian. But the Americans refused to believe that the bob was dead, or if it was dead, they refused to let the dead rest. They clipped and cut and curled and permanently waved in spite of the bob's demise.

And now, as Spring approaches, the Parisians are reversing their opinions. Not only are they returning to the bob, but to the mannish hair-cut, the shingle. And the Americans are agreeing with them unanimously. The shingle is the thing! The last word! Le Dernier Mot!

Everyone from Grandma down to the baby is getting a shingle. Grandma realized that the Figi Island effects of previous seasons were not for her, but the close-cropped shingle is a different matter.

And, strange to say, this is the first time that the bob has ever actually approached its doom since coming into style. People have been saying for years that short hair was going out, but it didn't go out. It came in with a bang! A real bang on the forehead! But the very perponderance with which it has entered in the fashion world might mark its doom. Over popularity might hasten its demise. At any rate, we won't write the obituaries of the bob until the time for obituaries are due. The bob is the liveliest thing alive today. Everybody is cutting, clipping. Certain families have enough clipped hair about the house to start a hair watch-chain factory. The second-hand man is knocking at our doors, asking: "Any old clothes, shoes, hair?" And the scissors sharpener cries, "Scissors to grind?" whenever he sees a woman on the street. Bob haired bandits are the latest menace about New York, and the police peer under every woman's hat seeking for the bold, bad, bobbed bandit. If you'd fit in fashion's jingle, Go at once and get a shingle.

Conforming with the present beltless mode for gowns, the Spring's costume slip has no waistline marking whatsoever. Straight slips, made on chemise lines, of materials such as radium, crepe satin and crepe de chene, are among the newest of undergarments. Those designed to be worn under the sheer Summer frock have a panel extending down the back which is made of a double fold of the material so as to be shadow-proof. Since this double panel extends the full length of the slip, it prevents perspiration across the shoulders from soiling the frock.

The hosiery color chart has more tones and shades of tones than a climatic scale. The latest shade to spring up over night on the Avenue is called "gravel". This color leads over off-nude shades and peach color. The following colors are those endorsed by the better gowned women of New York: gravel, shell, black, buck, sunset, reindeer, caramel, castor, acorn, suede, silver and medium gray. Tones that are too pink are seldom seen on the well-groomed woman.

Ocean green is the latest shade for Spring undergarments. All undergarments are returning to the vogue for lace or net. Plain hemstitched finishings are not being shown among the newer garments to any extent. Laces used on many garments are ecrú tinted. Filet, baby Irish lace and net are trims most often used.

AFTER AN OPERATION

Mrs. Wilke Couldn't Get Back Her Strength Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Rochester, Minnesota.—"I had a very serious operation and it seemed as if I could not get my health back after it. I suffered with pain almost constantly. My sister came to help take care of me, and she was taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nervousness and a run-down condition. She had me try some of it, and in a very few days' time I began to feel better. In two weeks I hardly knew myself and after taking a couple of bottles more I was up and helping around, and now I am strong and healthy again and am still taking it. It is a pleasure for me to write this to you, and I hope that many other women who are suffering like I was will find out about your medicine. I will give any information I possibly can."

Mrs. JAMES WILKE, 933 E. Center Street, Rochester, Minn. Remember, the Vegetable Compound has a record of fifty years of service and thousands of women praise its merit, as does Mrs. Wilke. Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

HIGH SCHOOL REFLECTOR

GINGS SCHOOL

AGRICULTURE

The agriculture classes in conjunction with Mr. Van Mater has made a survey of the horses in the district to determine the average age of the horses now on farms. In the survey the following facts were brought out concerning our horses: Number farms reported, 15, number of horses reported, 119; number over 3 years old, 85; average of all horses 7.5; average age (over three years) 9.8; percent over 11 years old, 25; percent over 7 years old, 59.

One interesting fact brought out by the survey is that of the 34 horses under 3 years of age all are on 3 farms, with 31 of them on one farm. A study of the facts as given above leads to these conclusions: (1) That the average age of the farm horse is rather high, (2) That most farmers are going out of the business of raising colts for farm use, (3) that the horses now on the farm will have soon completed their period of usefulness and need replacing, (4) that the farmers who get into the horse-raising class now can supply the demand that is certain to come will be the farmers who have found a profitable bit of business.

Next week will be the last week of school this year for the students of G. H. S. The final examinations will be given to all students next Monday and Tuesday. Most of the high school courses have been completed and reviews are now in progress. The English courses have not been finished but we hope to finish those by Friday.

LATIN

In previous years of the Latin contest, each school which participated sent representatives to the district contest. That is, the individuals receiving the highest grade in each division represented their school. This year, however, only two from each division in the entire county were entitled to enter the district contest. Gings school, the smallest high school in Rush County, should and does feel highly honored to think that they should have two students entered in this contest. The Rotary Club has given medals to the winners of the county, Monday, Mrs. Stewart, our Latin teacher, presented to Ruth Billings a gold medal for receiving first place in the Cicero division.

CHANGES ASPECT OF THAW TRIAL

Plan to Have Millionaire Lunatic Testify in Own Behalf and Tell Story to Jury Colleagues

A COMPROMISE IMPOSSIBLE

There Are Cross Currents in Turbulent Waters Into Which Thaw has Launched Move for Freedom

By FRANK GETTY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Philadelphia, April 19—The entire aspect of Harry K. Thaw's sanity trial has been changed by collapse of the original plan to have the millionaire lunatic testify in his own behalf and tell his story to the jury.

More is now going on behind the scenes than on the surface and the ensuing three days until the hearing is resumed Monday morning will be busy ones for the opposing counsel.

There is, of course, no possibility of compromise on the main issue involved. The jury must decide the original three questions:

- 1—Is Harry Thaw of sound mind at the present time?
- 2—Is he safe to be at large among his fellow men?
- 3—Is he capable of managing his estates?

There are the cross-currents in the turbulent waters into which Thaw has launched his move for freedom and these become of increasing importance as a result of his failure to prove in person to the jury that he is of apparently sound mind.

Not that it was Thaw's fault; he had schooled himself for months and intensively, pawing through papers in his place on the front row of benches for two days preparing for the test to which he asked his lawyers to submit him. He was ready to match wits with Arthur Dickson and "Billy" Gray, attorneys for parties opposing his release from Kirkbridge's.

But the legal maneuver whereby Judge Patterson, Thaw's lawyer turned him over unexpectedly to the opposition was met, after a few minutes hurried consultation with a tactful legal counsel, Gray refused to question Thaw and the big moment passed.

Now, however, the part that Evelyn Nesbit, Thaw's former wife, can play becomes of increasing importance. She was to have been used to prompt Gray in cross-examination of Thaw. On behalf of her son, Russell, for whom she claims heritage of the Thaw millions, she is opposing Harry's release.

Gray had been in doubt as to whether he would call Evelyn to the stand. He would not have done so had he cross-examined Thaw to his satisfaction. Now he may play Evelyn as his big card.

Similarly the opposition's interest in Evelyn increases and they were considering the possible damage she might do their cause. Mrs. Mary Thaw, Harry's mother, still is adamantly opposed to a settlement however, at least as far as her public utterances are concerned.

As the case now stands, preponderance of evidence is on Thaw's side, but so is the burden of proof. His counsel has called alienists, physicians and friends of the alleged lunatic to prove his sanity. The other side as alienists to declare him otherwise.

MOVIES

At The Princess Today

That much overexerted adjective "stupendous," may quite properly be employed to describe "The Covered Wagon," the new Paramount spectacle produced by James Cruze and adapted from Emerson Hough's novel of the same title by Jack Cunningham, which will be shown at the Princess theatre this afternoon and tonight.

The story, it may be said, is not widely original in plot or working out but though "Tis not so deep as a well—'tis enough, 'twill serve." It is a peg upon which to hang the adventures, the risks, the daring and doughty deeds of our forefathers, the hardly old pioneers—we think of them as old, though they were young enough then—who set out to find their fortunes in the Far West during the middle part of the last century. Nothing in "Grimm" or "Hans Christian Anderson" surpasses in romantic interest these marvelous days of "The Gold Fever," when gaunt men moved with their entire families across our great prairie wastes, in wagons such as are reproduced in this photo-panoramic legend.

This is the kind of picture to which school-children should be taken—for it will prove a royal road to learning the early history, geography and geology of their country.

It is said that nine States in the Far West were "combed" for locations, and that several State historians interested themselves in supplying information as to correct costuming, etc., for "The Covered Wagon." The Baker Ranch of 200,000 acres, in Nevada, was finally selected and arrangement made for its use as the principal scene of action. Oxen, horses, mules and a herd of the almost extinct buffalo had to be found, as well as Indians, plainsmen and drivers for the ox-teams. Thus it will be seen that the adjectives of the advance notices were justified. The work of Mr. Cruze and his associate in assembling this picture was indeed no mean task, and in stressing the purely psychological and pictorial pains, the director's achievement is in no wise discounted.

OFFER SUBSTITUTE

Terre Haute, Ind., April 19—In an effort to eliminate the possibility of deadly explosions in Indiana coal mines, experts of the state bureau of mines have recommended the adoption of "stone dusting" as a substitute for the watering method. The new method has been successfully used in England for several years, according to experts.

DOZEN OUT FOR SHERIFF

Muncie, Ind., April 19—An even dozen candidates have entered the race for the nomination for sheriff on the Republican ticket in Delaware county and contests are on for almost every other office. The Democratic ticket was filed when the last day for filing arrived but no contests appear for any county office.

LARGEST CLASS IS TO BE GRADUATED

Rushville High School Will Have Nearly Sixty Seniors, Early Indications Show

DATE SET FOR MAY 27

All Other Schools in County Have Selected Dates With Center And Arlington Next Week

The largest graduating class of seniors to leave the Rushville high school will be graduated May 27, according to an announcement today, and indications now point to a class of nearly 60 pupils. The speaker for the occasion has not been decided upon.

Commencement dates for all of the county high schools have been selected, and several of the schools are now preparing to close. Others will run longer than usual this year on account of making up time lost in the winter, due to epidemics of diseases and absences.

The first commencement will be held next week at Center, when the Rev. L. E. Brown of this city will deliver the address, Wednesday night.

This will be followed by the Arlington school graduation next Friday night at eight o'clock, when the largest class in the history of that school, numbering 14 pupils, will be graduated. The address will be delivered at the Christian church by A. L. Kohlmeier, head of the History department of Indiana university.

The Arlington school festivities began this week with the presentation of the class play, "Assisted by Sadie" given Wednesday and Thursday nights. Tonight the Junior-Senior reception will be held at the school, and a big three course banquet is planned, and a two part musical program and entertainment will follow. The Baccalaureate sermon for the class will be preached Sunday night at the Methodist church, with the sermon given by the Rev. E. L. Miller.

Fred VanNuy, an attorney of Indianapolis and formerly the Federal District attorney of Indiana, will come back to his home in Washington township and deliver the commencement address to the Raleigh high school on Saturday night, April 26.

Following the Raleigh commencement will come Milroy on Monday night, April 28. There will be 19 in the class there, and the address will be delivered by the Rev. J. S. E. McMichael of Connersville, a former minister at Milroy. On the night he Continued on Page Five

DENIES ALLEGATIONS BUT IS FINED $500

Earl Gilson, who Was Arrested Here Last Week, Also Draws 60-Day Sentence at Greensburg

PETIT LARCENY THE CHARGE

Earl Gilson, who was arrested here last week and turned over to the Greensburg authorities, was arraigned and tried in police court in that city Friday before the mayor, and found guilty of petit larceny, receiving a fine of $500 and a 60 day sentence.

Mayor Jenkins of that city does not believe in handing out light sentences, and all of the evidence submitted was circumstantial. The defendant protested such a stiff sentence, but the mayor said that it was given more on general principles than any thing else.

Alexander Bentley of near Forest Hill was the prosecuting witness in the case. In the trial Mr. Bentley stated that on February 4 Gilson came to his residence to visit Nettie Maynard, who was working at the Bentley home. Gilson and Mrs. Maynard, who is his step-mother, were involved in litigation at Muncie several months ago.

Mr. Bentley testified that Gilson stayed at his home about six days leaving on a Saturday morning. A few hours after his departure it was discovered that a gold watch, and old keepsake of Mr. Bentley's, had disappeared.

The defendant denied every allegation.

SUSPECT ARSON IN FATAL BLAZE

Explosion And Collapse of Chicago Building During Fire Causes Death of Nine Persons

20 INJURED, SOME FATALY

Three Who Had Shops in Building Under Arrest—One Firm Took Out Insurance Several Days Ago

Chicago, Ill., April 19—Arson was suspected by police today in the fire which last night gutted a four story building here, killing eight firemen, one civilian and injured twenty others, some perhaps fatally.

Search of the ruins was continued by policemen and firemen today. Still many unaccounted for may have been trapped when a terrific explosion caused the walls to bow out and then collapse.

The explosion occurred on the second floor, while firemen were swarming all over the building.

The structure was known as the Curran building, located on Blue Island Avenue on the South side. Fire, apparently insignificant, broke out last evening. Within a few moments the fire was raging throughout the entire structure. Scores of persons and fire apparatus were brought to the scene.

Several firemen were on the upper floor, others on the ground floor and still others were perched on ladders leaning against the walls and on a water tower running its head a few feet from the building, when without warning a terrific explosion shook the building. The walls bulged out and then caved to the ground. The roof and upper floor crashed through to the basement carrying the firemen and other persons with it through the leaping flames. Shrieks of agony pierced the blazing structure and the Continued on Page Five

Aspires To Be Queen Of Upper Regions

Miss Florence Staffon of Fresno, Calif., Former Rushville Girl, Too Nervous to Pilot Auto, Decides She Will Like Flying Where There's No Traffic to Bother Her

Miss Florence Staffon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Staffon, formerly of Rushville, has taken up aviation out in Fresno, California, where she and her mother are living with a wealthy cousin, M. R. Madary, according to a long account in a Fresno newspaper that has been received here.

Mr. and Mrs. Staffon and family left here four years ago and have since been residing in California.

Miss Staffon is employed by the Sun-Maid Raisin Growers and spends one-half hour each day, according to the newspaper account, endeavoring to master the airplane. A picture of Miss Staffon in flying clothes, standing beside a plane, appears with the newspaper article.

"I went up several weeks ago just for a lark while a party of us were watching at the aviation field," Miss Staffon is quoted as saying. "I liked it. It is wonderful sport. Then again I couldn't be a regular piker. I can't drive an automobile and can't seem to learn. I get nervous because there is so much traffic to watch."

The newspaper says Miss Staffon is the first aviatrix in central California and is one of but three or four in all California who have ever flown a plane.

In addition to the county prizes, there are several national prizes offered for the best ones, and these awards are of considerable amounts. The subject of the essay is to be, "Why Communism is a Menace to Americanism." The county awards will be $25 for the best, $15 for the next and $10 for the third best, and the next five best will receive a book the title to be selected later.

In the national contest, the first prize will be $750, second prize of $500 and third prize of $250. Then state prizes will be awarded in the form of a silver medal for the first state prize, a bronze medal for second best and a certificate of merit issued by National headquarters of the legion for third place.

Competent judges will be selected, and after the three best are decided on, these essays will then be forwarded to Indianapolis to be entered in the state contest. The national winners will be announced a few weeks after the contest closes August 10.

The winners of the county prizes will be published as soon as possible Continued on Page Five

FIREMEN MAKE QUICK WORK OF A BAD FIRE

Play Three Streams of Water on Blaze at S. Davis Home. Several Hundred Dollars Damage

ANOTHER HOUSE ON FIRE

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Davis, 705 North Morgan street, was damaged to the extent of several hundred dollars by fire and water shortly after eleven o'clock this morning when the roof caught fire, apparently from a defective flue.

Effective work by the fire department, which fought the blaze with three streams of water, saved the house, and also prevented the fire from spreading.

Sparks set fire to the roof of the house owned by Mrs. Sarah E. Stewart, 702 North Morgan street, immediately across the street, but blaze was soon extinguished. The other half of the Stewart house is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Norris and family.

The alarm was telephoned to the fire department and the quick response by the department nipped in the bud what might have been a very disastrous fire. Two lines of hose were laid from the motor pumper and one from the fire plug.

IMMIGRATION BILL GOES TO CONFERENCE

Will be Rushed Through and Sent to White House, There to Meet Problematic Fate

NO INKLING FROM COOLIDGE

Washington, April 19—Overwhelmingly passed by the senate late last night, the immigration bill and the controversial Japanese exclusion feature will be rushed through conferences with the house in the next few days and sent to the White House, there to meet a problematical fate.

President Coolidge has given no inkling of how he will treat it. Powerful pressure has been put on him by administration leaders in the senate and those in charge of his campaign to approve it and equally powerful arguments have been advanced to him to veto it.

Those who would have him approve it point to the enormous majority by which the bill passed the house and senate. It passed in the Continued on Page Five

MANY WITNESSES IN DIVORCE CASE

Thirty-six Summoned to Testify in Suit of Hazle M. Merritt Against Clyde Merritt

SPECIAL JUDGE ON BENCH

Judge Sparks Holds Court in Another Room, Hearing Another Divorce Matter

A divorce case today occupied the circuit court, with Judge John Craig of Greensburg being the special judge in the matter in which Hazle M. Merritt is seeking a decree from Clyde Merritt.

There were 36 witnesses summoned for the case, which was being contested by several counter actions. The plaintiff is a teacher at the Webb school, and lives in this city, and before her marriage was Hazle Risk.

The case was filed some time ago, but had never come up for trial. A restraining order had been heard, and several other actions taken in the case, including the appointment of the Greensburg judge to try the cause. It was expected that the evidence would not be completed until late today.

Judge Sparks this morning held court before the arrival of the Greensburg judge, and only a few issues in other causes were filed and Continued on Page Five

Nurserymen Say it is a Mistake to Dig up Hedges That Seem to be Dead

California Privet Species Apparently is Only Type to Have Been Winter Killed. Cut Off Tops Few Inches From The Ground And Hedge Will Soon Be As Luxurious As Ever.

People who had concluded that they should dig up their hedges because they appeared to be winter-killed, should not do anything of the sort, but should cut off the tops a few inches from the ground, and the hedge will grow and eventually will be as luxurious as ever, according to local nurserymen. The same advice is given by state officials who have been examining hedges in many parts of the state to see if they are dead.

The California Privet hedge is the worst effected, according to experts

RUSHVILLE MAN IS AT THE HELM

J. T. Arbuckle Directing Plans For Kiwanis "District Inter-Club Day" April 30

FOUR REGIONAL MEETINGS

One For This Sub-Area Will Be At Richmond Where 800 Are Expected To Be Present

With J. T. Arbuckle of this city, district governor, at the helm, Kiwanis clubs of Indiana are making elaborate preparations for "District Inter-Club Day," which will be observed at four regional meetings on Wednesday, April 30.

The special day is being fostered by Kiwanis clubs throughout the United States and Canada to promulgate national patriotism and to develop more friendly and closer relations between all cities in which Kiwanis clubs are situated.

Richmond will be the host club for the sub-area in which Rushville is located and Ray H. Weisbrod of Richmond, chairman of the inter-club relations committee, together with the lieutenant governor for this sub-area, John Goodwin of Brookville, is making arrangements for a banquet and meeting in observance of the day that is expected to excel anything Kiwanis ever attempted in Indiana.

Rushville is working for the attendance of every member and other clubs have a similar goal. The clubs in this region which will be represented at Richmond are located at Anderson, Bluffton, Brookville, Connersville, Elwood, Greenfield, Hartford City, Knightstown, Lawrenceburg, Muncie, Newcastle, Portland, Union City and Winchester.

It is estimated that there will be about 800 visitors from these cities for the meeting. The main address will be delivered by Lieut. Gov. Goodwin.

Similar arrangements are being made in each sub-area. The other regional meetings will be held in Kokomo, Bloomington and Elkhart, with Lieut. Gov. Tom Coleman, formerly of this city, directing the plans for the Kokomo meeting, Lieut. Gov. L. J. Kress in charge at Bloomington and Lieut. Gov. Fegan in Continued on Page Five

CHOICE BY VOTE IS IMPROBABLE

Gubernatorial Primary Fight Has Resolved Itself Into Two Three-Cornered Contests

THREE LEADERS ON EACH SIDE

Unlike Primary Campaign Of Four Years Ago, Presidential Race Has Attracted Little Attention

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 19—With the primary election less than three weeks off, the possibility of nominating candidates for governor on either the Republican or Democratic ticket by the popular vote in the primary appears more and more improbable.

Candidates for the gubernatorial nomination have directed their main efforts toward lining up delegates to the convention.

At the moment, according to observers who have been in touch with the strength developed by the candidates in various sections of the state, the fight has resolved itself into two three-cornered contests.

According to dopesters, the big fight is between Ed Jackson, Lew Shank and Ed Toner on the Republican ticket and Dr. Carleton McCulloch, Dale Crittenberger and Joseph Cravens among the Democratic contestants.

McCulloch has a big advantage in the backing of Tom Taggart. Taggart's announcement that he was backing McCulloch's candidacy, threw consternation into the ranks of the other candidates on the occasion of the banquet of the Democratic Editorial Association.

In past years Taggart's endorsement of a candidate has been almost sufficient to assure a candidate of the nomination.

This year the race evolves itself into a question convention if the nomination goes into convention.

The McCulloch forces seem to be centering their attack on Cravens. Accusations have been made that Cravens is linked with public utility interests.

Cravens has stoutly denied the rumors. In a recent speech he said he "would shed no tears" if the legislature abolished the public service commission.

Cravens' had developed his greatest strength in the southern part of the state. He has also evidenced some strength in Marion county.

Crittenberger's main strength, according to reports, lies in the eighth and twelfth congressional districts, with the opponents declaring he has the support of the wet wing of the party, due largely to the declaration of Stephen B. Fleming, former brewer, that he is for Crittenberger.

With no such dominating leadership as that of Taggart behind any of the Republican candidates, the race has assumed more of the aspect Continued from Page 5

PAVING SEASON IS ON IN EARNEST FOR THE STATE ROADS

Indianapolis, Ind., April 19—The paving season is now on as regards state roads and in the next ten days the roar of concrete mixers will be heard at many points along the system designated for hard-surfacing this year.

Not Like a Clam

CLAMS live to themselves. You can't. You link lives with your neighbor across the street, across the state, across the continent. You are influenced by what he wants, buys, uses, enjoys.

When enough of your neighbors want, buy, use, enjoy the same thing, you begin to see advertisements about it—advertisements to arouse you to similar use and enjoyment. They paint glowing, truthful pictures—try to get you interested in what will really interest you.

Convenient, courteous information is yours at a minute's glance. Style, variety, price, where obtained. That minute's glance may mean the difference between buying unworthy wares and the best.

You don't want to be like a clam—even in your judgments. Read the advertisements to be guided by others' choice. When they choose something again and again, it must be good.

Each advertisement is written to you—to help you choose—to save you money

FIRE APPARATUS USED IN BLOCKADE

State Troopers Combine Forces With Quarantine Guard to Keep Out Afflicted People

MACHINE GUN TO BE USED

(By United Press)

Yuma, Ariz., April 19—Fire fighting apparatus and state troopers combined forces with quarantine guards today to enforce the blockade against 800 Arizona-bound tourists, just about to cross the border.

The blockade is an effort to check the spread of the dread hoof and mouth disease, now prevalent in some parts of California.

Late Friday, the tourists, many of them afflicted with the disease, made an attempt to rush the interstate bridge over the Colorado river. They were successful until firemen and Yuma police officials repelled the attempt. Guns were taken from the quarantine guards and great streams of water were brought into play to repel the tourists.

In the caravan waiting to cross into Arizona are one hundred motor cars, many of them containing women and children.

Guardsmen ordered here by Governor Hunt will place a machine gun in the bridge to prevent the tourists from crossing.

WRECK SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS VENTURE

After Piling Fabulous Profit of 5,000 Percent Two Youths Await Juvenile Court Action

FORMED A PARTNERSHIP

Indianapolis, Ind., April 19—Heartless police here have wrecked one of the most daringly successful business operations ever instituted in Indianapolis.

After piling up the fabulous profit of 5,000 percent in less than a week the promoters, Edward Meyers, 10, and Kenneth Mahurin, 11, were guests at the detention home awaiting action of juvenile court.

Meyers said he ran away from home last Monday and formed a partnership with Mahurin the day following. Total capital of the financiers consisted of one cent.

After holding numerous conferences, and after carefully looking over the investment field, they placed their entire capital in an Indianapolis paper and sold it for two cents.

Encouraged by the tremendous success of their first fling in the financial world, they reinvested in newspapers and at last built up a business which netted them fifty cents a day profit.

They took up sleeping quarters in a moving van they found equipped with blankets and tarpaulins.

In the midst of their successful business venture they were picked up by police.

Condition of Noted Italian Actress Critical

The noted actress has been confined to her bed for two weeks suffering from pneumonia. Her age—65 years—is the greatest handicap against her struggle, but physicians are at her bedside to give her every possible aid in the moments of crisis which are expected today.

TO PRESENT "THE CHARM SCHOOL"

Graduating Class of Manila High School Prepares For Annual Class Play April 25 and 26

BACCALAUREATE APRIL 27

Commencement Will be Held May 1 at Which Time D. K. Stewart of Columbus Will Speak

The graduating class of the Manila High school is making preparations for the annual class play which is to be presented in the high school auditorium on April 25 and 26. Following the custom established by former classes, a high grade comedy has been selected for presentation. This comedy, "The Charm School," adapted from the novel by Alice Duer Miller, offers splendid opportunity for the members of the class to display their talent as actors.

Other activities in connection with the close of the school year will follow the class play in rapid order.

On Sunday night, April 27 the Baccalaureate exercises will be held in the high school auditorium. The Rev. O. E. Haley of the Manila M. E. church will deliver the address, while the high school chorus will furnish the music for this occasion. On Tuesday night, April 29, the Junior Class will hold a reception for the graduating class. The end of the exercises will come with the commencement on Thursday night, May 1.

On this occasion D. K. Stewart of Columbus, Indiana, will deliver the address. Mr. Stewart is a talented orator who has given a number of commencement addresses in this section of the country and is known as a speaker who holds the attention of his audiences with little difficulty. The music for the commencement will be furnished by Wagoner's orchestra of Rushville.

Contrary to the usual custom, no admission will be charged at the commencement this year and it is hoped that a great many people will avail themselves of this change and hear Mr. Stewart.

Gary—So many vagabonds were arrested during the cleanup campaign that police had to hire a truck to haul them to Crown Point to lay out their fines.

BIBLE THOUGHT
FOR TODAY
Bible thoughts, memorials, and prayers presented in a new way.

Owe no man anything, but to love one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law. Love worketh no ill to his neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.—
Romans 13:8, 10.

The Message of Easter

As the peoples of the earth come again unto Easter, with its message of eternal life, it is no stretch of imagination to believe that from time to time in the remote past, long before the loving fatherhood of God was revealed by His Son, a similar assurance was given to mankind. As the first man, whether his name may have been Adam or something else, looked upon his wife and children he must have asked the question propound in a later age by Job, "If a man die shall he live again?" And there must have come to him some comforting thought to save him from despair.

In a later generation such consolation came to David when he lost his little lad, for whom he had fasted and wept. "But now he is dead wherefore should I fast? Can I bring him back again? I shall go to him, but he shall not return to me."
And so it was with Job who, after passing through dire misfortunes, physical affliction and mental anguish, exclaimed: "For I know that my Redeemer liveth, and that He shall stand at the latter day upon the earth: And though after my skin worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God; When I shall see for myself, and mine eyes shall behold." So it was with Paul, the great apostle of the resurrection, when he triumphantly declared, "O, death where is thy sting? O grave,
where is thy victory?"

And now, in the fullness of time manhood has the Easter message in all its completeness, as given to the world by the Redeemer and His apostles. It is a message that answers
"Yes" to the question that came down through the ages, "If a man die shall he live again?" It is the message that brings to all mortals the comforting assurance, "We shall meet again." It is a message of hope and inspiration and comfort to all the world.

The Epidemic of Slang

The "orgy of slang" which seems to be a characteristic of the neurotic life of a certain class of young Americans is deplored by a popular writer, who seems to think this is a disease, when it is only a symptom.
After pointing out that many of the expressions in vogue had their origin in the gutters of experience, he expresses the view that if these "smart" young people could realize how low is the society they mimic they would blush in shame.

This is taking the matter entirely too seriously. That vagabonds and rogues use phrases current in the transient vocabulary of slang concerns the average youth not at all.
Boys and girls of today are very much self-complacent, self contained and self-sufficient.

There should be no alarm. Slang there will always be of course, and not all of it will be objectionable or useless. The present tendency to indulge in an orgy of unduly speech will pass sooner or later, as all extremism does. The more extreme the fad, whether in clothes or speech, the shorter its life.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, D.C.—"Hell an' Maria" Dawes, who headed the commission drafting the new German reparations proposal, isn't usually considered by his supporters for positions of secondary rank.
In any ordinary situation, Dawes leads or else he doesn't go along.
In the A. B. F. H. he was the last word on problems of purchase and supply. As commissioner appointed to establish the government's budget system, he was accountable to no one except President Harding. As member of the reparations body, he sat at the head of the table.

It is with some trepidation, therefore, that Republican leaders are debating the method of approach in suggesting to Dawes that he become the tail to the party's kite in the coming campaign and "accept" the nomination for vice president on a ticket with Coolidge.

WITH Dawes filling second place on the ticket, they believe additional popularity could be given the Coolidge campaign. Certainly Dawes would go far toward making the campaign more picturesque.
His fluency of expression and his graphic vocabulary would counterbalance the taciturnity and the dignified utterances of "Cautious Cal."

But how would the tender of the vice presidency strike Dawes? In itself it isn't an office presenting opportunities for energy and action. The vice president can't join in Senate debates. The only matters he can decide are points in parliamentary law. He isn't even supposed to pound energetically with the senatorial gavel, to enforce decorum, but to tap with it lightly and genteelly, in a sort of "gentlemen, be calm" attitude.
And as an opportunity for using the expletives with which Dawes prefers to emphasize his remarks, it presents none at all.

Tom Sims Says

The most weather-beaten man in this town is the weather man.

Life is too short to stop and argue with men who can lick you.

Lots of birds think they are wise as owls because they are always hooting at something.

The neighbor with the most nerve is one who buys phonograph records and borrows your machine to play them.

In Chicago, a man tried to have a chorus girl arrested because she bit his finger. He should keep away

There is a house shortage because houses won't make 60 miles an hour.

The most expensive gift on earth

Safety Sam's Sermonette

In spite of the fact that a good bit of buzzin' is bein' done about politics this spring, I don't think anybody's liable t' contradict me when I say that more'n 99 per cent o' th' conversation that's turned loose is about things that run or are s'posed t' run on rubber tires.

It's s'prisin' th' amount o' consideration that's bein' given t' th' all-important question o' how many brakes are needed t' stop a car.
A big balloon tire couldn't hold half th' wind that's turned loose on th' subject every time an automobile salesman huffenholes a prospect that he suspects o' havin' a couple o' bucks that aint spoke for already by some flivver finance concern.

Automobiles was throwed t'gether for some twenty-odd years with only two brakes on 'em an' everybody was medium well satisfied till all of a sudden, I s'pose, some gink that makes 'em was struck by a notion that there could be circumstances that'd make a quick stop look as desirable t' a driver as a drink o' Volstead's Favorite Fluid would look t' th' average sojourner in Hades. So th' outcome was, they put brakes on all th' wheels they could find.

I s'pose somebody 'll scoff an' say he's been drivin' for a quarter century an' has never yet used his brakes, but there's plenty o' drivers who've caught themselves floatin' onto a car track or steam road, crossin' loopin' right into th' teeth o' what was comin' when they was hittin' it up too fast, who'd a gave a million dollars apiece for a couple more good brakes!

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From The Daily Republican
Tuesday, April 20, 1909

A movement that has been burning for months, aye for years; under the embers kept ignited by the progressive Wednesday Evening Club, was given birth and made its debut to the public today. Briefly, it is planned to have a public library in Rushville.
Everything points to the happy conclusion that it will soon be a reality.

A valuable pony belonging to R.
A. Innis was found missing this morning. The gate to the barn lot was unlatched and it was thought that the animal had been stolen or purposely turned out. A search was instituted and about noon the pony was found south of the city.

Frazier Caldwell, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. George Caldwell, of West First street, fell and broke his arm yesterday evening on his way home from school. He was coming down the hill on Perkins street on roller skates when the accident occurred.

County Clerk Verne Norris and his deputy, Birney Spradling, were working over time yesterday in an effort to do all their work. It was the largest day's business that they have ever had since entering the office.

J. B. Rees of Indianapolis is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C.

iness in Glenwood. (Glenwood cor-

Miss Helen Norris took dinner with Miss Ruby Stewart Sunday.
(New Salem correspondent).

In crossing the traction line at the corner of Third and Main street Sunday, the wheel of the phaeton in which Mrs. J. K. Gowdy was riding collapsed. The horse was stopped and no injury was done.

One of the most pleasing social functions of the year was the initiation and banquet given by the local chapter of the Tri Kappas last night. Seven young women were taken into the secrets of the Greek letter organization under the most auspicious circumstances. They were, Jessie Anderson, Georgia Wyatt, Jean Bishop, Hazel Lytle, Frances Sexton, Georgia Amos and Florence Frazee. The initiation was held at the home of Miss Jessie Kitchen and the banquet at the Windsor hotel.

After a spirited contest at the Whitewater Presbytery in session here at the First Presbyterian church Joseph L. Cowing of this city was named as delegate to the Na-

Rumor has it that a $15,000 school

A GOOD LAXATIVE

Black-Draught Recommended by an Illinois Lady, Who Says It Helps Her.—"Fine for the Liver."

St. Elmo, Ill.—"I have used Black-Draught for three years," says Mrs.
J. W. Boyd, a well-known member of this community. "I was visiting a friend who had used it for some time.
I was in need of a laxative and I had a burning in my stomach. I was constipated. She gave me a dose of Black-Draught and it helped me, so I used it from then on. It certainly benefited me. I think it is fine for the liver, too. I am glad to recommend it."
"One day our pastor was visiting us, and he said his system seemed clogged and asked me to give him something to take. I gave him Black-Draught. He was much pleased with the results and bought a package, himself."

Constipation forces the system to absorb poisons that should be thrown out, causing pain, discomfort and tending to undermine your health. Black-Draught helps to relieve this condition by acting on the bowels, and by regulating the liver when it is torpid, thus helping to drive out many poisons in an easy, natural way.
Don't take chances! At the first indication of constipation, take Black-Draught. Costs only a cent a dose.
Your local druggist, or dealer, sells Black-Draught.

Foreign Boxers Get Dough

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, April 19—Managers of American boxers are complaining against the importation of so many foreign boxers and the preference that is being given to them for the big money bouts.

From their point of view, it is true that American boxers are entitled at least to an even break with imported foreigners who are given the "big shots", without being forced to go through the hard school of development that is exacted of American fighters.

Eddie Kane, manager of Tom Gibbons, points out that since Jack Dempsey has been heavyweight champion, promoters have given American boxers only $40,000 for services against the champion and that a half-million dollars has been paid to two foreign fighters, both of whom had no just right to a bout for the title.

It is not Dempsey's fault, of course, unless there is truth in the oft repeated assertion that the champion has deliberately sidestepped Harry Wills. Dempsey claims that he will fight any opponent the promoters offer him and, if he is speaking truthfully, the promoters must be blamed for any discrimination that is being shown against Americans.

Tex Rickard, who hustled Luis Firpo into a fortune of a half-million dollars, who matched Carpentier with Dempsey and who has brought Erminio Spalla and Quintin Romero into the select group of dough fighters, claims that it is the fault of the public.

Rickard points out that there has to be a circus touch to any fight card that requires a million-dollar gate to get over. Foreign fighters furnish the circus color.

Against any number of American contenders, no promoter could draw enough to pay Dempsey his purse for defending the title, Rickard contends. He claims that Gibbons would not draw as much as Firpo would in a return bout with the champion, although Firpo didn't go two rounds with Dempsey and Gibbons lasted 15 under conditions that were decidedly advantageous to Dempsey.

Firpo, however, knocked Dempsey down twice and out of the ring once and Dempsey was never in serious danger when he was fighting Gibbons.

The promoters' side of it is presented in Rickard's argument that a return bout between Dempsey and Firpo would be a sellout, with no more advertising than an announcement when and where they were to meet, and that a long and loud ballyhoo would be necessary to get over a fight between Dempsey and some other opponent.

The proposed Dempsey-Wills bout is generally regarded as a "natural" one that could be put over profitably with very little exploitation and steaming up, but even in that case Wills would have to be built up a little to overcome the feeling that he is not as good as he used to be, or that he is any good at all.

If Dempsey, as Rickard points out, would fight for any reasonable sum, he could promote a number of heavyweight championship bouts and give all the American contenders a chance, but he finds that the contenders do not want to meet Dempsey unless they get a purse that is all out of proportion.

Dempsey has to be shown the possibilities of at least $500,000 before he will consider any kind of an offer and it is possible that he will be wanting a million dollars before he loses or gives up the title.

charge at Elkhart. One of the main features of the program at the regional meeting will be the "Zero Hour," at 9 p. m., when the entire assembly will stand and in unison repeat the "American Creed" and the "Pledge to the Flag," and sing a song of fellowship.

The "American Creed," which will be repeated at 9 o'clock was written by William Tyler Page and accepted by the United States House of Representatives on behalf of the American people, April 3, 1918, is as follows:

"I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people, whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union; one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

"I, therefore, believe it is my duty to my country to love it, support its constitution, to obey its laws, to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies."

The American "Pledge to the Flag" is as follows:

"I pledge allegiance to the American flag and to the republic for which it stands, one nation indi-

An "Inter-Club Relations Creed", of Kiwanis principals has also been adopted for this occasion. The Creed is as follows:

"We believe that today all men are members of the great Brotherhood of Men, that the things which divide them may be minimized and annulled, and the things that unite them strengthened and confirmed by abundant fellowship relations—man with man and group with group.

"We believe that tolerance, generosity and understanding flourish and live and that fanaticism, hatred and persecution wither and die when Kiwanis men, representing the various races, creeds and thought, inter-mingle Kiwanian with Kiwanian and Club with Club.

"We believe that the potential resources of cordiality and hospitality may be developed and the power of sectional jealousies and animosities removed by increased Kiwanis Club association and communication—group with group and district with district.

"We believe that a broad national patriotism and respect for Government is stimulated in these neighborly visitations and in International Conventions where the exchange of thought is tempered by the altruistic objectives and by the lofty idealism of Kiwanis.

"We believe that the great spiritual values of life as emphasized in the friendly intercourse of these Inter-Club relations direct our attention to the need of allegiance to and reverence and devotion for the God of the universe under whose protecting wings the International Kiwanis Club and these great nations have prospered."

earth shook from the falling of brick concrete and timber.

Scenes of unsurpassed heroism followed. Police and firemen rushed into the roaring furnace. Most of the people who were rescued from the fire owe their lives to the prompt and courageous work of the rescuers.

Police were told that owners of the Curran building had aroused the enmity of many persons by planning to rent the upper floor of the structure to negroes. Police were also told several persons acting suspiciously had been seen near the building just before the fire.

Police today took into custody Samuel Moore, Lep Unell and Samuel Palinski in connection with their investigation of arson.

Moore and Unell, proprietors of the Moore-Unell Novelty Company, also part of the structure, took out $32,000 fire insurance several days ago, according to police.

Adolph Friedman, proprietor of another shop in the building, told police that a hour and a half before the fire broke out, Moore asked him if all the tenants were out of the building.

His opponents, Mayor Shank particularly, threw a monkey wrench into the Jackson machine by saying that he approved the activities of the R. L. Dollings company Indiana. Jackson has emphatically denied that he had any connection with the sale of Dollings stock, and declared that a bill would have been passed by the last legislature to prevent just such a crash if it had not been for sinister lobbying influences.

Mayor Shank remains one of the enigmas of the campaign. He has had good crowds at all his political meetings but the dopesters have been wary of making predictions as to whether this is indicative of his real strength at the polls.

On every hand there are reports that Ed Toner is rapidly gaining strength. Toner has considerable newspaper support that will be an important factor in the closing days of the campaign.

SHINGLE FOLLOWS THE BOB

By HEDDA HOYT
(Written for United Press)
New York, April 19—The Parisians decided early in the winter that hair should be long and sleek and drawn tightly behind the ears if one was to be "chie".

"Eyes," wrote a Parisian connoisseur of feminine beauty, "are not the Parisian's only claim to beauty. The shell-pink ear is quite as fascinating as the eye."

American girls are often rather slow about accepting the Parisian verdict on beauty. They will accept their silhouette, their hats and their shoes without a moment's hesitation, but when it comes to accepting their palor, their darkened eyelids, their ears or their hair—does! Gracious! That is something to ponder over!

The American girls were quite willing to give their Parisian sisters an "eye" for an "eye", but when it came to giving them an "ear" for an "ear"—well, that was a different matter.

And as for long, sleek hair! Never! "The bob is dead! Vive la long hair!" shouted the Parisian.

But the Americans refused to believe that the bob was dead, or if it was dead, they refused to let the dead rest. They clipped and cut and curled and permanently waved in spite of the bob's demise.

And now, as Spring approaches, the Parisians are reversing their opinions. Not only are they returning to the bob, but to the maunish hair-cut, the shingle. And the Americans are agreeing with them unanimously. The shingle is the thing! The last word! Le Dernier Mot!

Everyone from Grandma down to the baby is getting a shingle. Grandma realized that the Figi Island effects of previous seasons were not for her, but the close-cropped shingle is a different matter.

And, strange to say, this is the first time that the bob has ever actually approached its doom since coming into style. People have been saying for years that short hair was going out, but it didn't go out. It came in with a bang! A real bang on the forehead! But the very perpendance with which it has entered in the fashion world might mark its doom. Over popularity might hasten its demise. At any rate, we won't write the obituaries of the bob until the time for obituaries are due. The bob is the livest thing alive today. Everybody is cutting, clipping. Certain families have enough clipped hair about the house to start a hair watch-chain factory. The second-hand man is knocking at our doors, asking: "Any old clothes, shoes, hair?" And the scissors sharpeners, "Scissors to grind?" whenever he sees a woman on the street. Bob haired bandits are the latest menace about New York, and the police peer under every woman's hat seeking for the bold, bad, bobbed bandit. If you'd fit in fashion's jungle, Go at once and get a shingle.

Conforming with the present beltless mode for gowns, the Spring's costume slip has no waistline marking whatsoever. Straight slips, made on chemise lines, of materials such as radium, crepe satin and crepe de chene, are among the newest of undergarments. Those designed to be worn under the sheer Summer frock have a panel extending down the back which is made of a double fold of the material so as to be shadow-proof. Since this double panel extends the full length of the slip, it prevents perspiration across the shoulders from soiling the frock.

The hosiery color chart has more tones and shades of tones than a climatic scale. The latest shade to spring up over night on the Avenue is called "gravel". This color leads over off-nude shades and peach color. The following colors are those endorsed by the better gowned women of New York: gravel, shell, black, buck, sunset, reindeer, caramel, castor, acorn, suede, silver and medium gray. Tones that are too pink are seldom seen on the well-groomed woman.

Ocean green is the latest shade for Spring undergarments. All undergarments are returning to the vogue for lace or net. Plain hemstitched finishings are not being shown among the newer garments to any extent. Laces used on many garments are ecrú tinted. Filet, baby Irish lace and net are trims most often used.

AFTER AN OPERATION

Rochester, Minnesota.—"I had a very serious operation and it seemed as if I could not get my health back after it. I suffered with pain almost constantly. My sister came to help take care of me, and she was taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nervousness and a run-down condition. She had me try some of it, and in a very few days' time I began to feel better. In two weeks I hardly knew myself and after taking a couple of bottles more I was up and helping around, and now I am strong and healthy again and am still taking it. It is a pleasure for me to write this to you, and I hope that many other women who are suffering like I was will find out about your medicine. I will give any information I possibly can."—Mrs. JAMES WILKE, 933 E. Center Street, Rochester, Minn.

Remember, the Vegetable Compound has a record of fifty years of service and thousands of women praise its merit, as does Mrs. Wilke. Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

AGRICULTURE

The agriculture classes in conjunction with Mr. Van Mater has made a survey of the horses in the district to determine the average age of the horses now on farms. In the survey the following facts were brought out concerning our horses: Number farms reported, 15; number of horses reported, 119; number over 3 years old, 83; average of all horses 7.5; average age (over three years) 9.8; percent over 11 years old, 25; percent over 7 years old, 59.

One interesting fact brought out by the survey is that of the 34 horses under 3 years of age all are on 3 farms, with 31 of them on one farm. A study of the facts as given above leads to these conclusions: (1) That the average age of the farm horse is rather high, (2) That most farmers are going out of the business of raising colts for farm use, (3) that the horses now on the farm will have soon completed their period of usefulness and need replacing, (4) that the farmers who get into the horse raising class now can supply the demand that is certain to come will be the farmers who have found a profitable bit of business.

Next week will be the last week of school this year for the students of G. H. S. The final examinations will be given to all students next Monday and Tuesday. Most of the high school courses have been completed and reviews are now in progress. The English courses have not been finished but we hope to finish those by Friday.

LATIN

In previous years of the Latin contest, each school which participated sent representatives to the district contest. That is, the individuals receiving the highest grade in each division represented their school. This year, however, only two from each division in the entire county were entitled to enter the district contest. Gings school, the smallest high school in Rush County, should and does feel highly honored to think that they should have two students entered in this contest. The Rotary Club has given medals to the winners of the county. Monday, Mrs. Stewart, our Latin teacher, presented to Ruth Billings a gold medal for receiving first place in the Cicero division.

ARLINGTON

An amusing mystery play, "Assisted by Sadie," was given by the Senior Class on April 16 and 17.

The plot of the play centered around the theft of a $20,000 pearl necklace. The solving of the mystery involved an amusing Irish maid, an aristocratic dowager, an impudent little bellboy, and a droll young Englishman. The 20th century flapper, a young millionaire, hotel manager, detective, an absent minded professor, a young heiress, and a Spanish Senorita added more perplexity and merriment to the general atmosphere of mystery.

The play proved to be a great success, and was well received by the audience.

SUMMER SCHOOL OPENS SOON

DePauw Session to Begin June 5 and Will Last Nine Weeks

Greencastle, Ind., April 19—The summer session at DePauw university will open June 5 and last nine weeks, according to an official university announcement.

Work will be conducted in practically all the departments and the summer faculty this year will be larger than on previous summers.

The summer session is no longer the haven of "lame ducks" who have failed to pass their courses in the regular academic year, according to university authorities.

Each year the number of students who expect to shorten their college work one year by taking summer sessions is larger, they declare.

CHANGES ASPECT OF THAW TRIAL

Plan to Have Millionaire Lunatic Testify in Own Behalf and Tell Story to Jury Collapse

A COMPROMISE IMPOSSIBLE

There Are Cross Currents in Turbulent Waters Into Which Thaw has Launched Move for Freedom

By FRANK GETTY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Philadelphia, April 19—The entire aspect of Harry K. Thaw's sanity trial has been changed by collapse of the original plan to have the millionaire lunatic testify in his own behalf and tell his story to the jury.

More is now going on behind the scenes than on the surface and the hearing three days until the hearing is resumed Monday morning will be busy ones for the opposing counsel.

There is, of course, no possibility of compromise on the main issue involved. The jury must decide the original three questions:

- 1—Is Harry Thaw of sound mind at the present time?
- 2—Is he safe to be at large among his fellow men?
- 3—Is he capable of managing his estates?

There are the cross-currents in the turbulent waters into which Thaw has launched his move for freedom and these become of increasing importance as a result of his failure to prove in person to the jury that he is of apparently sound mind.

Not that it was Thaw's fault; he had schooled himself for months and intensively, pawing through papers in his place on the front row of benches for two days preparing for the test to which he asked his lawyers to submit him. He was ready to match wits with Arthur Dickson and "Billy" Gray, attorneys for parties opposing his release from Kirkbridge's.

But the legal maneuver whereby Judge Patterson, Thaw's lawyer turned him over unexpectedly to the opposition was met, after a few minutes hurried consultation with a tactful legal counsel. Gray refused to question Thaw and the big moment passed.

Now, however, the part that Evelyn Nesbit, Thaw's former wife, can play becomes of increasing importance. She was to have been used to prompt Gray in cross-examination of Thaw. On behalf of her son, Russell, for whom she claims heritage of the Thaw millions, she is opposing Harry's release.

Gray had been in doubt as to whether he would call Evelyn to the stand. He would not have done so had he cross-examined Thaw to his satisfaction. Now he may play Evelyn as his big card.

Similarly the opposition's interest in Evelyn increases and they were considering the possible damage she might do their cause. Mrs. Mary Thaw, Harry's mother, still is adamantly opposed to a settlement however, at least as far as her public utterances are concerned.

As the case now stands, preponderance of evidence is on Thaw's side, but so is the burden of proof. His counsel has called alienists, physicians and friends of the alleged lunatic to prove his sanity. The other side as alienists to declare him otherwise.

At The Princess Today

That much overexposed adjective "stupendous," may quite properly be employed to describe "The Covered Wagon," the new Paramount spectacle produced by James Cruze and adapted from Emerson Hough's novel of the same title by Jack Cunningham, which will be shown at the Princess theatre this afternoon and tonight.

The story, it may be said, is not widely original in plot or working out but though "Tis not so deep as a well—'tis enough, 'twill serve." It is a peg upon which to hang the adventures, the risks, the daring and doughty deeds of our forefathers, the hardly old pioneers—we think of them as old, though they were young enough then—who set out to find their fortunes in the Far West during the middle part of the last century. Nothing in "Grimm" or "Hans Christian Anderson" surpasses in romantic interest these marvelous days of "The Gold Fever," when gaunt men moved with their entire families across our great prairie wastes, in wagons such as are reproduced in this photo-panoramic legend.

This is the kind of picture to which school-children should be taken—for it will prove a royal road to learning the early history, geography and geology of their country.

It is said that nine States in the Far West were "combed" for locations, and that several State historians interested themselves in supplying information as to correct costuming, etc., for "The Covered Wagon." The Baker Ranch of 200,000 acres, in Nevada, was finally selected and arrangement made for its use as the principal scene of action. Oxen, horses, mules and a herd of the almost extinct buffalo had to be found, as well as Indians, plainsmen and drivers for the ox-teams. Thus it will be seen that the adjectives of the advance notices were justified. The work of Mr. Cruze and his associate in assembling this picture was indeed no mean task, and in stressing the purely psychological and pictorial points, the director's achievement is in no wise discounted.

OFFER SUBSTITUTE

Terre Haute, Ind., April 19—In an effort to eliminate the possibility of deadly explosions in Indiana coal mines, experts of the state bureau of mines have recommended the adoption of "stone dusting" as a substitute for the watering method. The new method has been successfully used in England for several years, according to experts.

DOZEN OUT FOR SHERIFF

Muncie, Ind., April 19—An even dozen candidates have entered the race for the nomination for sheriff on the Republican ticket in Delaware county and contests are on for almost every other office. The Democratic ticket was filed when the last day for filing arrived but no contests appear for any county office.
